Book Time

- Pick a book your child enjoys listening too.
- Read that book every day to them.
- Be interactive with it like you are a character in the book.
- Ask them questions about the book: for example, “Now what happens after the wolf huffs and puffs?” (3 little pigs)

- Sometimes it takes multiple times to read a book before your child may be able to answer questions or interact back. That is okay, they are learning!
- When you feel they are ready, go ahead and move on to a new story!

*This activity will work on literacy skills such as 18a (Interacts during reading experiences, book conversations, and text reflections). This will also work on 18C (retells stories and recounts details from informational text).
